Meredith History Interest Group

Volunteer Application

The MHIG is a volunteer run organisation and welcomes expressions of interest from people who share a passion in our history.

We rely on volunteers to keep the MHIG alive and active.

Volunteers bring a wide range of interests, knowledge, skill, expertise, and experience which we value.

Our volunteers work to support the Society's aim to preserve and promote the history and heritage of Meredith and District.

A variety of roles are available, and you may like to assist with exhibitions or the opening of the museum, or in areas such as research, collection management, archives, cataloguing or research library.

There are also a number of maintenance teams and committees that you may like to join.

Volunteers must be a member of the Society.

Please feel free to approach one of our volunteers or ring the Museum and Archives centre to chat about your interest in joining our team of volunteers and complete below to formalize your interest
